ZULULAND WILD FLORA RANGE

INSPIRED BY THE LAND. ILLUSTRATED BY HAND.
CRAFTED IN LEATHER.

Our Zululand print is a proudly South African collaboration between LAV Leather and botanical artist Jocelyn Vivier (@mybotanicalarthobby), inspired by the rich biodiversity of northern KwaZulu-Natal. The collection includes Zululand Trees, Flowers, and the upcoming Aloe Range—each celebrating indigenous plant life and the unique beauty of the region.

As Jo shares: "I've always felt a deep connection to nature living in Zululand, inspired daily by its beauty—flowers, birds, wildlife, and the unique topography. My love for botanical art began as a teenager and has developed into a Sunday hobby. And though I've never studied fine art, I've enjoyed learning and teaching myself along the way. This passion blossomed into three unique designs after a commission from good friends. That's what you see in this range from LAV Leather. It was a rewarding challenge, and I'm thrilled with how they turned out. I hope to create more in the future."

SUSTAINABLE STITCHES

Sustainable Stitches creates flexible income opportunities for women in the Manyoni and Zululand areas through the traditional craft of hand-stitched leatherwork—requiring minimal tools and no electricity. Led by Zandile Mthembu alongside a growing team including Stembi, Nokwanda, Jabu, and Phumzile, the initiative empowers women to work from home while building valuable skills and income.

Artisans earn 10% of each product's retail value, with opportunities to grow as their skills develop.

In a world of mass production, Sustainable Stitches stands for authenticity—creating beautiful, long-lasting products with a human story behind each piece.

Our approach:

- Using off-cuts and surplus leather to minimise waste
- Handcrafted processes with low environmental impact
- Recyclable and biodegradable packaging where possible
- Fair pay and ethical working conditions
